HB Network turns social/commercial/industrial/national burdens into measurable gains. Verticals include public-private partnerships in housing, health, environmental protection, education, energy, technologies and more.

Human Biology® is a nationwide-capable USPTO registered, billable public health model that delivers data-backed interventions, while Human Biology Investments structures the financing to scale them using outcomes contracting. Partners receive built-in volunteer support to help deliver programs in their communities, bill insurance, and tap into local government pay-for-success funding. Value Quantification is what investing in public health outcomes looks like.

This paid partnership opportunity leverages the deep expertise of public health practitioners, nutrition & wellness chefs, community centers, healthcare professionals, and others. Reach out and connect today! 🍌
